

CPYRGHT

CPYRGHT

New Envoy and Predecessor

The appointment of Adm. Jerauld Wright, 64, former top commander of the Navy in the Atlantic, as Ambassador to Nationalist China was announced at the White House yesterday after it was revealed that the present envoy, Adm. Alan G. Kirk, had resigned. Kirk, 73, said he was resigning because his doctors told him his physical condition would not permit a return to his post.